

Mental Health at Work: Policies, Practices, and Prevention Strategies Across Europe and Beyond

Transnational Training Session – Ankara-online, 29 September 2025

11.00 - 16.30 (Local time: Ankara / UTC+3)

Objectives:

- Raise awareness among workers' representatives about the emergence and implications of psychosocial risks in the workplace.
- Share institutional priorities, research findings and policy tools for promoting mental health at work, especially in the context of digital transition.
- Discuss the current and potential contribution of trade unions in addressing workers' mental health, including through social dialogue and collective bargaining at different levels.
- Present project-based insights and experiences from the IncreMe(n)tal initiative, with a focus on the metalworking sector.
- Promote mutual learning through the exchange of perspectives and best practices from European institutions, trade unions and expert stakeholders.

Contents:

- Conceptual and policy framework on mental health at work and psychosocial risks.
- Institutional priorities and EU-level strategies for healthy workplaces.
- The role of trade unions in mental health governance: challenges and opportunities at European/transnational level.
- Key findings and lessons learned from the IncreMe(n)tal Project.
- Reflections on how digitalisation and vulnerability factors shape mental health outcomes across both the workplace and wider society.
- Concluding discussion on pathways for future action and cooperation.
